

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

v.

JAHLIL TAYLOR,

Defendant.

ORDER

20 Cr. 615 (LGS)

WHEREAS, defendant JAHLIL TAYLOR has stated an intent to enter a plea of guilty to the Indictment in this case, and this Court has referred the change-of-plea proceedings to the duty Magistrate Judge;

WHEREAS the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic necessitates that the proceeding take place remotely, and the CARES Act and findings made by the Judicial Conference of the United States and the Chief Judge of the Southern District of New York allow for guilty pleas to be taken by phone or videoconference, subject to certain findings made by the District Judge;

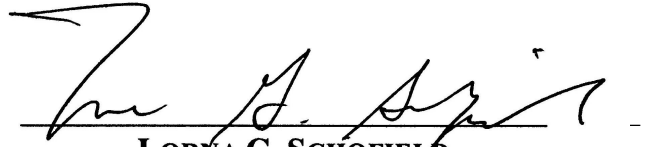

WHEREAS the Court understands that the duty Magistrate Judge shall conduct the defendant's change-of-plea proceeding by videoconference or by telephone if, due to scheduling limitations, videoconference is not reasonably available, and that the defendant has specifically requested that the proceeding occur remotely and consents to the same;

THE COURT HEREBY FINDS that the defendant's change-of-plea proceeding cannot be further delayed without serious harm to the interests of justice, because the case has been pending for approximately seven months, during which period the defendant has been detained; because the defendant's intention to resolve the case prior to trial would be frustrated by further delay in light of the October 2021 trial that is tentatively scheduled in this case; and because the parties' and the public's interest in finality, certainty, and the speedy disposition of criminal cases all require that the change-of-plea proceeding occur without further delay.

SO ORDERED.
